
THIS COLUMN IS BEING written under somewhat strained circumstances.

It is being composed (?) as we prepare to attend the funeral services in Newport Beach of an old publisher friend and former employer, Ralph H. Turner, who passed away this past week.

In contrast to the usual problem of "getting around" when journeying to the spread-out southland, in this instance, the funeral home is only a short distance from the Orange County airport to which there is a direct flight from the San Jose airport via Air California.

We followed the same sad flight pattern several years ago when Ralph's wife, Lyle, passed away.

But no matter how convenient the problem of transportation in this case may be, the fact remains that the objective, paying one's last respects to an old friend casts a pall on the situation.

Although Ralph Turner retired some years ago from active newspapering, he continued to keep in touch with the activities of the profession of which he had been a dedicated member for so long.

He sincerely believed that a newspaperman had a responsibility that should not be taken lightly no matter how trivial the situation might be.

He was quick to praise good journalistic practices.

But he was even more quick to condemn sloppy reporting and editing.

And his caustic comments made his position clear.

OUR RELATIONSHIP with Turner was a pleasant one.

Most of the time.

We were associated with him on the same newspaper on two different occasions and, obviously, there were many times when our opinions differed. Drastically.

And the barbed words would fly.

Although we modestly admit that our vocabulary is rated fairly adequate in most circles, we were up against a real pro in that field with Turner.

We always felt like we were a minor league player trying to compete in the majors when we tangled with him word-wise.

Our discussions, however, were always stimulating.

And both of us enjoyed them thoroughly.

Maybe that's why we had 'em.

SOME OF YOU MAY REcall that from time to time over the years, we have published some of the pithy comments of Turner in this column.

He was an avid reader of The Campbell Press and loved to clip an editorial, this column or a news story from this newspaper and send it back to us with a wry comment or two on the margin.

By the same token, however, when he felt that we had done a particularly good job,. editorially speaking, he was just as prompt to send on his commendations.

His newspapering background was such that he rated respect from all who knew him both in and out of the profession.

HIS PASSING ENDS AN era of journalism in this country that we will never see again, for the "old timers" in the trade operated differently than the modern scrivener.

Turner was 75 when he died which gives you an idea of the number of years he was exposed to the rigors of the word game.

State to award contract for Camden interchange

Bids will be opened in Sacramento today (Wed., June 10) for the project to rebuild the interchange on Highway 17 at Camden Ave. and to widen the freeway from four to six lanes northward to Highway 280.

More than $3 million has been budgeted by the California Highway Commission for the job.

The project will include new roadway sections on White Oaks, on Camden within the interchange area and between Camden to the western end of Curtner Ave.

It will also include adding an additional loop in the southeast part of the interchange. The interchange structure will provide for an ultimate eight-lane capacity. In addition, bridges over Campbell Ave. and Los Gatos Creek on Highway 17 will be widened.

The construction is expected to be completed during the summer or fall of 1972.

City has fiscal problems

Council to hold budget sessions

Campbell councilmen held a routine hearing Monday night on the city's $4.9 million preliminary budget as prepared by City Manager Bob Stephens.

But they merely glanced at the imposing book.

They immediately scheduled four budget study sessions during the month in which they will go through the 150-page document page by page with their blue pencils poised for action.

Although the budget submitted by Stephens allows no new personnel and even cuts out out-of-city meeting expenses for councilmen, commissioners and city personnel, (which cost $18,285 last year) the councilmen must do some more slashing, even to bring the city reserve up to $50,000 minimum they have established by policy.

The preliminary budget anticipates only $4.590 in the general fund reserve at the end of the next fiscal year.

The Council will meet Tuesday, June 16, in the first budget session; then on Saturday, June 20 and Tuesday, June 23. They will either wind up the budget session on Monday, June 29 or Tuesday, June 30. The preliminary budget

Hamilton Plaza plans remodeling program for shopping center area

Plans for remodeling of the Hamilton Plaza Shopping Center (at Bascom and Hamilton) plus an addition of an auto care center in the same area will be before the Planning Commission next Monday, June 15.

In addition, the Planning Commission will continue with the hearing on the proposed civic center zoning district, which was deferred from the last meeting in order that overlays and street patterns be prepared to show the relation of the civic center district to the entire area.

The civic center zoning district is bounded on the north by the lots just north of Grant; on the south by Campbell Ave. and extends from First St. to Harrison.

While the Commission and City Council were studying the zoning, an interim zone had been placed on an area that extended to Latimer.

Under the new proposal, properties outside the "district" will revert to their original zoning, primarily residential.

Ray Kanawyer has submitted plans for approval of a 63-unit apartment complex at 220 Hollis Ave. and the plans for the industrial office building of R. C. Montgomery, at 480 McGlincey Lane, will again be before the Commission. At the last session, the Commission suggested modifications to improve the landscaping plans.

Fred Chez is also asking Commission approval of a change in roof lines and material for his commercial center at 1871 Pollard Road.

Before the Commission again will be the request of Sutter Hill Development Company for approval of a wall/fence for a garden center in their development on Hamilton Ave. The Commission deferred action in order to check out the regulations of when a fence becomes a wall or vice versa.

Mrs. Anna Mae Pereira's request to convert a residence on Hamilton into an office is also on the agenda. The matter was deferred from the last meeting so that a plot plan to scale could be prepared.

Three building permits in May top 3/4 million

Although residential building in Campbell is in a definite slump, three commercial building permits issued by the City of Campbell in May, totalling more than ¾ of $1 million, helped close the gap between last year's total and the current year, according to the report of Wally Byron, city building official.

The "big three" included the new city hall permit for $479,350, the Bank of America building in the PruneYard for $112,819 and an industrial building for O. H. Nelson for $184,800 at 520 McGlincey Lane. A permit was also issued to Fred Chez for a commercial building at 1871 Pollard Road for $42,546.

The May total of $851,357 topped May of 1969 by $313,615.

During the first five months last year there had been $3,697,211 in building permits issued by the City compared to $3,528,965 this year, a difference of $168,246. The first quarter lag was more than $700,000.

As was the case last year, the building of single family homes in Campbell is at a standstill.

Last year by this time one

Editorial

There was a message

By now you have heard from many pundits, officials and/or politicians as to what the "message" was presented by the voters in the recent Primary Election.

Most of the statements and the interpretations that you heard undoubtedly were presented by people who are far more experienced in such fields than the editor and publisher of your community weekly newspaper.

Obviously in the partisan situations, the opinions and translations must be somewhat colored by the partisan tinge of the individual expressing his viewpoint.

The politicians quite naturally must attempt to heal the wounds created in the intra-party battles of the primary so that a united front can be presented against the common enemy come next November.

In most cases these wounds will be only superficial and there will be this unity of purpose during the next five months, at least on the surface.

And that is really the main purpose of the primary, i.e., to name the party candidates.

Of course there will be exceptional cases where the bitterness created in the primary battles will be carried over and the defeated candidate may either "sit out the campaign" or, in extreme cases, support the candidate of the other party.

But the partisan squabbles are anticipated and, although many are disappointed by the "nominations", this clearing of the underbrush is a necessary step in the two-party system under which we operate.

So, what we are trying to say is that the primary election, as far as party candidates are concerned, is about the same in every election.

The degree of emotion and/or strategy may vary but the basic end results are the same.

There are, of course, always a few non-partisan jobs at stake in the primary with the two top vote-getters contending in the finals. Unless, of course, as in the case of Supervisor Ralph Mehrkens and County Assessor Dwight Mathiesen, one of the candidates manages to get a majority of the votes against the field.

Or in the case of Supervisor Sig Sanchez, the race is decided in the primary because there was only one opponent.

And there is the case of District Attorney Louis Bergna who was unopposed.

And then former Supervisor Sam Della Maggiore and Undersheriff James Geary, who topped the field of six candidates in the sheriff's race, will battle it out in November.

So really any "message" in the partisan races, or non-partisan for that matter, are merely personal ones.

But that was not so with the other phases of the primary election balloting.

There were messages coming out loud and clear when the results were tabulated for the statewide propositions and the local measures that were up for grabs.

The voters in the West Valley Junior College District (comprising Campbell, Los Gatos and Santa Clara high school districts) emphatically turned down (for the fourth time) the proposed $35.6 million bond issue, 27,820 to 42,694.

And the voters in the Campbell Union School District turned down the request to raise interest rates on unsold bonds (7,459 to 9,624) and to raise the tax rate (9,624 to 6,271.)

In Saratoga, after an intensive campaign, a park bond issue squeaked by with a bare majority (4392 to 4166), far short of the two-thirds majority needed.

Milpitas lost a bond issue and a proposed interest rate hike and, in San Jose, the voters slapped down a proposal to raise the councilmen's salaries. (55,352 to 23,932).

On the statewide level, proposition #1, which would have provided bond funds ($246 million) for more health science facilities, lost.

And Proposition #8, which was labeled as a tax reform but had many apparent weaknesses and opposition.

Thus it behooves all officialdom, whether involved in governing of schools, cities, counties or the state, to make a sincere effort now to get on the same wavelength with the voters.

In no uncertain terms the electorate has indicated that there is need for a tightening of the public money belt.

In face of this voters' reaction, some of the so-called "demands", "fringe benefits", and "salary increases" that have been presented in the past as a matter of course would now appear to be ridiculous.

The public seems to feel that the "money tree" has been shaken pretty bare.

journalism, he was with United Press for 30 years and served all over the world.

His first assignment, just out of college, was on an American newspaper in Tokyo. Ralph and Lyle's honeymoon was spent on a ship to London where he had been assigned by UP.

One of his most exciting "scoops" was an interview with Pancho Villa that he managed to wire out of Mexico and which received nationwide coverage.

To give you an idea of his range, both in years and in places, he attended the Peace Conference after World War I and he also, as a United Press executive, was at the formation of the United Nations in San Francisco.

He also "covered" the sensational demonstration when airplanes showed how effective they could be in bombing warships in the 1920's.

AFTER LEAVING UP, and its affiliate NEA, he acquired his own newspaper, The Temple City Times, in the Los Angeles area.

It was there that we first met him and became his editor when Turner was one of those chosen by the U.S. Department of State to make a survey of the German weekly newspapers after World War II.

In 1962, Ralph was elected by his fellow newspaper publishers in California to head the California Newspaper Publishers Association.

Some of you might recall that we took a leave from our chores in Campbell to return to the Temple City Times while Ralph headed the CNPA.

WE READILY CONCEDE that we have filled this column this week with our own personal remembrances of a fellow newspaperman and old friend whom we admired and respected.

He was of the "old school" and maybe that is why we have tarried on the subject, for "old schools" are getting few and far between.

And we suppose another one of our reasons is that the chances of another Turner coming across the journalistic horizon is pretty slim.

The chances are his pattern has been lost.

And that's a shame.

We hope we haven't bored you.

THIS WEEK WE RECEIVED a letter from "Pinkerton's, Inc.", (founded by Allan Pinkerton, 1850.

We were intrigued with the question asked right after the Dear Mr. Vierhus;

"Is something you should know about happening at your company?"

Naturally we read on.

Wouldn't you?

The letter talked about "inventory shrinkage" and other activities that are not kosher.

"Obviously," the letter suggests, "you can't know everything that's going on." (Brother, that's true.)

Pinkerton's offered to help us control these conditions through a Pinkerton's Internal Survey.

"This survey," it reported, "is a preventive as well as a corrective measure."

Enclosed was a security checklist to help us focus on some of today's more common trouble spots.

The letter writer then added: "If you can't answer these questions to your satisfaction, let us help you determine what is going on."

WE GUESS WE DON'T need Pinkerton in our big operation for we answered all 10 of the questions to our satisfaction, although three of 'em gave us a little trouble.

"–Are your plant and materials of such value that they should be protected by alert, professional guards? (Well, that depends how you look at it.)

"–Is it possible for visitors to your plant to cause your company loss or embarrassment? (Some of our visitors cause us embarrassment. That's for sure, especially the irate ones.)

"–Are you fully satisfied with the impression your employees are making on the public and on customers? (Golly, we wonder if Pinkerton could sell more ads for us?)

Anyway we decided that we didn't need the Pinkerton agency at this stage of the game.

We'll keep 'em in mind.

must be adopted by June 30, although the final budget will not be adopted until mid-August when the assessed valuation figures are released.

The budget submitted by Stephens anticipated a 19-cent tax increase this year in order to offset the city hall construction deficit.

COUNCIL BY-PLAY

The "tightness" of the city's fiscal state was emphasized by Mayor Dean Chamberlin at Monday's meeting in a by-play involving Councilman Ed Rogers.

Rogers, near the close of the meeting, had taken to task Bill Wren, public works director, for the delay that has occurred in the street-tree planting program that had been authorized by the City Council.

Rogers criticized Wren for not adhering to the deadline of March 8 when trees were to have been planted on Winchester Blvd.

The Council, he pointed out, had authorized $2000 for the tree project and to date only nine trees had been planted. Rogers said the Council had specified that the trees be planted along Winchester Blvd. (at the Campbell Shopping Center north) and on West Bascom.

Wren explained that the nine trees had cost $600 so far and that the budget was depleted and that he thought it was to the city's advantage to work with the shopping center owners on Bascom for the improvement of that street rather than just planting trees.

Rogers, however, emphasized that $2000 had been allocated for tree-planting; period. He suggested that the proper fiscal transfers be made to get the $1400 back into the budget for the project. Councilman Bill Smeed sided with Rogers, pointing out that it was a matter of principle.

It was then that Mayor Chamberlin explained that he, too, agreed with the principle, but wondered if the city's financial straits didn't warrant putting $1400 to a better use.

Rogers then suggested that the mayor put it to a vote of the Council, by making a motion to that effect.

Chamberlin accepted the challenge. He handed the gavel to Vice-Mayor Ralph Doetsch and moved that the $1400 be eliminated from the tree-planting program and shifted to the general fund. His motion, however, died for lack of a second.

The conclusion of this by-play was that the tree-planting program along Winchester would be continued immediately until $1400 more had been expended.

OTHER ACTIONS

In another financial action, the Council approved allocating $1500 from the $80,000 park bond series (recently sold to Bank of America) to complete the Campbell-Moreland Pony League ball field facilities.

The Council also approved the coverage of the city councilmen under Social Security. Councilmen now receive $150 per month but have not been under Social Security which would cost the city approximately 5%.

The action by the Council allows the present councilmen to individually elect to go under Social Security. But it would be mandatory for future councils.

The action Monday, in effect, only put Mayor Chamberlin in the social security area, as the other four councilmen are now covered in their various occupations. It was also specified that the coverage of other city employees would not affect the council's plan.

The Council in another fiscal matter deferred discussion until Monday, June 15, on the request of Bill Hedley, architect for the city hall, for compensation for professional services for work beyond the architectural service contract.

More Helpful Tips from PG&E: "Clip and Save"

Every girl should know how to re-fuse.

If you should find yourself power-less, and your neighbors are too, it's probably a local power equipment failure. Call us and we'll restore service. If the power is off in your house only, it's probably a blown fuse or an open circuit breaker. You may have too many appliances on one circuit or outlet. Unplug a few.

Or it could be a short-circuit, so check for damaged cords and loose plugs.

If your lights are still off, check your main switch. If it is the fuse type, the switch should be turned "off" before you replace a fuse. Replace any fuse that has a smoked-up window or melted metal strip. (Make sure new fuse is the same amperage as the old one—no more, no less.) If you have circuit breakers, follow the instructions on the panel. Many homes have both fuses and circuit breakers.

If your electricity is off for any period, don't open your refrigerator or freezer, so frozen foods will stay frozen longer. If the food starts to thaw, add dry ice. Still in the dark? Call us.

P.S. The average daily cost of gas and electricity to run a typical household year 'round is less than a couple of packs of cigarettes.

The junior gardeners have already received their assignments and notebooks for the new year from Mrs. Aversente, Santa Clara Valley District Junior Gardeners chairman.

Other Campbell gardeners attending the convention included Mrs. B. A. Brigham, president of the local club; Mrs. Lou Marrotti, Mrs. Ward Brannon and Mrs. Daphne White, a past president and district director.

Camden presents movie classics

An evening featuring many classics of the silent films, with live piano accompaniment, and two barbershop quartettes, will be presented Thursday night, June 11, at 7:30 at Campbell High School auditorium on Campbell Ave. at Winchester Blvd.

It will be a benefit for Camden High School's student campaign committee working for the July 21 tax election.

Robin Welch of the Gaslighter Theater will accompany Charlie Chaplin, Buster Keaton, The Keystone Kops, Ford Sterling, Mabel Norman, Laurel and Hardy, and others through many of their classic screen antics on the piano. Yet the show goes further than that!

Two barbershop quartettes, The Westones, and the nationally known Fancy Dans will also perform. The cost, unlike the original price, is $1 for adults, 75¢ for high school students with ASB card, and 50¢ for children under 12 at the door.

Operetta Guild holds auditions for operetta

Auditions are open to all those between the ages of 8 to 18. Those auditioning should come prepared to sing "There Is No Business Like Show Business". Accompaniment will be provided. Also needed with no age limit, are a banjo player, bass player and a drummer.

The production is based on the book written by Herbert and Dorothy Fields, about the internationally celebrated markswoman from the backwoods of Drake County, Ohio, Annie Oakley.

The Childrens Operetta Guild is scheduled to present the musical beginning Oct. 30 at Old Town Theater in Los Gatos. Production director will be C. Michael Traw.

Campbell Corners

By Cindy Harris

Last week's assembly brought to light many of the awards that are being presented to students at Campbell for their different achievements throughout the 69-70 school year.

Starting off the assembly Mr. Ewert presented the awards in the science and mathematics field. The two science awards went to Jerry Cox and Steve Vital, with Cathy Willbee and Jeff Wilson receiving awards in mathematics. A chemistry award was also presented to Steve Falling.

The Rennselaar Mathematics and Science Award was received by Bill Mitchell. Receiving the Bausch and Lomb Award this year was Rod Engdahl.

Mr. Quigley and Mr. Capitolo then brought forth the award winners in the field of art. The first prize winners in this year's art festival were Ricci Mann – painting and mixed media; Nona Propst – sculpture; Paula Melistefr – drawings; Patricia Baker – prints; Cindi Gause – miscellaneous crafts; and, Lori Colluer – independent painting.

Lori Colluer also received the Best of Division award, and the Best of Show and Division award was given to Cathy Millikin.

Girl Scouts

NEIGHBORHOOD 17

Neighborhood 17 Girl Scout adults held their annual "thanks for service" picnic at Oak Meadow Park, Los Gatos recently. The service team cooked "one pot" recipes for the main course and leaders provided salads.

The service team asked each leader to choose an emblem from a brown paper bag, called the "troop personality bag" and share with others the type of girl in her troop who fit that personality description.

Such fun things as pepper, indicating a peppery personality; a piece of puzzle, reminding leaders of that one girl they can't quite figure out; a lemon, for the girl who changes from sour to sweet when the Girl Scout program gets to her; and a baby doll, suggesting girls who are lovable as a doll, were shared as reminders of the challenges and satisfactions of past leadership.

Mrs. H. W. Lansford spokesman for the program, thanked the service team for holding the 15 troops together for the past year. She presented each with a package of chewing gum, symbolic of being "sweet and lasting." She said, "Every now and then, after enough pressure, you, like chewing gum, crack and pop a bit. But you stick to it in spite of not having a neighborhood chairman to guide you. All agreed that adult teamwork is important for ongoing girl participation.

The picnic ended as each one sampled "walk and shake" ice cream.

TREAT TIME --- Ice cream cups were the treat earned by the Junior Girl Scout Troop 303 for selling three cases of cookies per girl, making them the top cookie saleswomen for Neighborhood 17.

In the upper right hand corner are Mrs. C. D. Perston and daughter Kathy, now a Cadette Scout. Former Troop 303 members, they returned to the troop to assemble a first aid kit.

Other troop members not present are Helen and Janet Langley, Robin McClain, Vicki Raasch, Diana Ritchie and Susan and Cynthia Rutkowitz.

MANNEQUINS

Officers installed in the Fire Prevention Section of the same association include Gene Borden, Campbell Fire Marshal as vice-president.

Hongkong news tells of success

Mr. and Mrs. Charles De La Roche of the Winchester Hardware have received clippings from Hong Kong where their daughter, Mrs. Richard (Annette) Martin is now living with her husband and two children. Mrs. Martin, who formerly sang with the San Francisco Civic Light Opera Association is now active with the Hong Kong Singers, and is presently appearing in the title role of Franz Lehar's "Merry Widow."

She is also dubbing-in for Japanese movies, teaching two days a week at a Chinese finishing school. Mrs. Martin is the mother of two sons, 9 and 7. The Martin family will be returning to their Saratoga home in September, 1971, when Martin will have completed two years' overseas assignment with Fairchild. SPORTS FANS!

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Al Salciccia

How much does it cost to run a big league baseball team?...Well, teams have to put out over $200,000 just to get through spring training; they spend about $100,000 on air fare during the regular season along with $75,000 on hotels, $30,000 for meals on the road, and $10,000 for uniforms... That's almost a half-a-million dollars and that's only the start, and does not include money spent for player salaries and all other expenses... So, you want to own a big league team?

Of all the major spectator sports, do you know which one attracts more of the older fans and which one attracts more of the younger people?...A recent survey shows that auto racing and basketball have the youngest fans while horse racing has the oldest fans with the average age of horse racing spectators estimated at about 50 years of age.

June 19 set for WV commencement

Commencement exercises for graduates from West Valley College will be held on the Saratoga campus on June 19 at 7:30 p.m.

That evening Dr. Wallace W. Hall, retiring superintendent-president of the college, will deliver the commencement address "Think On These Things" to the graduating class, which numbers 719.

Rev. William H. Gould of the First United Methodist Church of Campbell will deliver the invocation and benediction. Eugene Palombo, 1223 Blossom Hill, San Jose, will deliver the valedictory address. Palombo, a 29-year-old veteran, has a 3.91 grade point average, having received all A's and only one B while at West Valley.

Music for the evening will be provided by the West Valley College Symphony, under the direction of Cesare Claudio, and the Concert Choir, a 60-voice group of students, under the direction of Miss Kathryn Huss.

Head Start School needs Volunteer aides

Volunteer aides in Campbell's Head Start Day Care Center are now needed for the summer months. High school and college youth who want to help their fellow men, are urged to take advantage of the opportunity to act out their ideals by volunteering to work on a two to eight hour shift at least once a week.

Head Start School, operating out of the St. Lawrence Episcopal Church, 60 W. Rincon Ave., serves 24 children from ages two to six from low-income homes. Help is needed to supervise the children, assist in pre-school skills, teaching, and to pick up and deliver the children to and from school. Classroom help is needed at all times and particularly in the morning session from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The day care center is open from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. and help is needed in that area also.

Good, used wheel toys, including tricycles and a doll buggy are needed, according to James Henman, morning head start teacher. Volunteers or donors of toys may call Henman at the school, 379-6076, or Mrs. Helen Pearlman, volunteer coordinator, 269-0108.

IN VIETNAM

U.S. Air Force Airman Kenneth M. Hankins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Meldo Hankins, 1176 E. Campbell Ave., Campbell, is on duty at Phu Cat AB, Vietnam.

Airman Hankins, a vehicle operator, is assigned to the 12th Transportation Squadron, a unit of the Pacific Air Forces headquarters. He previously served at Laughlin AFB, Tex.

The airman is a 1969 graduate of Del Mar High School.

PHARMACY PHACTS

The most poorly nourished American is believed to be the teenage girl. Teenagers have a habit of skipping breakfast, the most important meal of the day.

MORE ABOUT

Three permits

permit for a single family dwelling had been issued. So far this year no single family dwelling permits have been taken out.

This year there also have been no duplex permits issued to date.

Last year by the end of five months there had been nine duplex permits for $218,278. The multiple units this year are also lagging in numbers but not in valuation.

Last year by this time there had been four multiple-unit permits for $444,129 compared to only three this year. (None in May compared to $250,000 last May.)

However, the three this year come to $1,548,814, more than $1 million gain in valuation.

Because of the "Towers" and "PruneYard" permits issued last year, the commercial total by the end of five months in 1969 had shot to $2,368,297. This year, despite the spurt in May, the commercial total has only reached $1,313,705. (In May last year, however, the commercial building permits totalled only $47,987 compared to this May's whopping $634,715.)

There is another optimistic part of the building picture in Campbell.

There has been a definite increase in swimming pool construction this year, the building permit record reveals.

To date this year, there have been 12 pool permits issued (four in May) for a total of $38,600 compared to only eight last year (one in May) for $27,200.

Enrollment now open for summer music school

This Friday, June 12, is the deadline for Campbell Union School District's annual summer music school registration.

Students from incoming fourth graders to outgoing eighth graders in the district are eligible for this accelerated summer program which consists of five weeks of daily classes, individual help, orchestra, band and ensemble participation culminating in a program Aug. 6 in San Jose Civic Auditorium.

Offerings include string, woodwind and brass instruments, drums, folk singing and recreational games. Students must furnish their own instruments.

Fees for the classes cover class instruction, materials and transportation. The session, held at Campbell Elementary School, commences July 6 and ends Aug. 7. Classes are held from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Although not included in the total $17.50 fee, a highlight of the program is a supervised trip to the Ice Follies in San Francisco.

Staff instructors include Ed Tonini, Wally Johnson, Joe Cathey, Gilda Mazzanti, Bill Autry, Bill Resch, Al Alarid and Don Bryant.

For information on enrollment, call the school district, 378-3405. Payment in full must include each application

Council studies communications at city hall

Campbell councilmen on Monday night heard representatives of three firms and the Pacific Telephone explain in general terms different approaches that could be used in the installation of the communication system in the new city hall.

But the approaches were so varied and so opposed to each other that the councilmen decided that they needed more time to study the issue before making any decision.

The Council will meet in a study session on June 22 with Architect Bill Hedley when, hopefully, they will be able to decide which way to go.

One of the representatives maintained that the city could save $5000, if it followed his firm's approach, which would include a survey and installing the equipment they recommended.

Pacific Telephone people explained that the utility firm was ready to cooperate with a survey and recommendations as to the proper system at no fee.

The Council on Monday also referred the draft of the proposed towing ordinance back to staff to work out a clause in the proposed ordinance drawn up by City Attorney Joe Bonacina relating to customers putting cards on their cars in parking centers to avoid being towed away.

City Manager Bob Stephens and Police Chief John Morgan had indicated that they felt the card deal was not satisfactory. Most of the councilmen also felt that a better plan could be devised.

The Council also took no action on the resolution of the Youth Advisory Commission supporting the giving of votes to 18-year-olds.

Ron Brooks of the youth commission made the presentation before the Council.

Most of the councilmen observed that they had mixed emotions on the question and were not ready to act.

The Council on Monday also approved claims totalling $958 for expenses of Ed Pack, Frank Klein, Dale Scott and Jack Healey, of the Planning Commission, at the recent planning commission seminar in Anaheim.

Ten speed bike thefts increase

Ten-speed bike owners are the latest victims of what is apparently a ring of bike theft specialists operating throughout the area. According to Campbell police reports, Campbell residents have reported a total of 15 bikes stolen in the last week, and only five have been recovered.

Target for the thieves are the boy's 10-speed bikes, and the ring is apparently operating all over the state, with 300 being reported stolen from one area alone.

The Bonanza Steak House, 301 E. Hamilton Ave., lost $400 from a safe, after the establishment was broken into Saturday. The safe was expertly "peeled" and the currency removed. Damage to the structure and safe added up to $1,000. This is the second such theft from the business.

The Olde California Pizza, 2495 Winchester, also lost $437 in currency over the weekend. According to police reports the burglar apparently was able to leave the fire door ajar and enter the premises after lock-up.

Six apply for park commission

Six candidates for the position of Campbell City Park Commissioner, will be interviewed by the Park and Recreation Commission Wednesday night at their regular meeting.

Submitting letters of application for the position left open by the election of Bill Podgorsek to the city council are: A. Van Laarhoven, Hazelwood School principal; Mrs. Gene L. Hofer, housewife, 834 Sharon Court; Harold P. Serio, 725 Jeffrey Ave.; Charles F. Cannady, 237 Hollis Ave., Apt. 1; Theodore L. Thorsen, 568 Sobrato Dr., and Stephen E. Owens, 161 Virginia Ave.

DOGS WEAR CLOTHES — Jeanne Wianco, Tammy McCoy and Linoa Sloane with three of the entries in the costumed dog class at the Kirkwood Plaza last weekend.

NEW OWNER — Henry Co, right, new owner of the Mister Donut Shop on Camden Ave., receives his graduation certificate from Gerald Winokur, Mister Donut training director. Co is a member of the Institute of Food Technologists and the American Chemical Society and was formerly with the Thomas J. Lipton Co. in New Jersey.

WILLIAM CAMPBELL
New WVC Cross-Country Head Coach

DON STILLWELL
New WV Assistant Football Coach

Westmont coaches move to WV

West Valley College went into Westmont High School to obtain its two physical education coaches, who will begin teaching duties this fall.

Don Stillwell will become assistant football coach, while William Campbell will assume head coaching duties for cross country and be the assistant track coach.

Stillwell has been at Westmont since 1964, serving as head football coach from 1964-66 and again in 1969. He was dean of boys there in 1967 and 1968. Campbell has also been at Westmont since 1964, coaching cross country for three years, and coaching varsity track for all six years.

Stillwell, 38, graduated from the University of Southern California where he was a 3-year varsity letterman. He played in the Rose Bowl game in 1953, when USC beat Wisconsin 7-0. His other teaching duties, in addition to his tenure at Westmont, include Whittier High School in Whittier, Calif., and Sierra High School, also in Whittier. He is married and has two children.

Campbell attended Monterey Peninsula College for two years, competing in track for both of those years. During this period (1959-61) he ran on the 440, 880 and mile relay teams which were ranked second in the nation for all junior colleges. He graduated from San Jose State in 1964 and has spent all of his teaching time since then at Westmont. He is 28 and married. His wife, Jean, currently teaches physical education at Branham High School in the Campbell Union High School District.
